MILWAUKEE, C. H., Milwaukee Co., 150,000 pop., on W. shore of Lake Michigan, 85 m. N. of Chicago, with which it is connected by two lines of railway (and by steamers during the season of navigation). Has one of the finest harbors on the lakes, which was improved by the city at a cost of upwards of $300,000. The United States Government is constructing an ample harbor of refuge in Milwaukee Bay, which, when completed, will materially enhance the importance of the city as a lake port. Its lake commerce ranks next to that of Chicago in value and extent, and on account of its abundant water front and extensive railroad facilities is a great depot for the distribution of coal and other heavy freight throughout the Northwest. It has a large commerce, as a wholesale market, and is becoming more noted as a manufacturing centre. Its grain elevators have an aggregate storage capacity of between five and six million bushels, and its flour mills are capable of manufacturing a million and a half barrels of flour annually. The annual product of the breweries represents a money value of between eight and nine millions of dollars. The total value of all its manufactures in 1880 was about fifty millions of dollars. It is the principal lake depot of the numerous lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. Co., and within the last few years has become the shipping port for about half the Chicago and Northwestern system. It is also the terminus of the Wisconsin Central and the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western Rds. The volume of freight traffic over the Northern Pacific Rd. passes largely through Milwaukee, with which it is connected by three separate lines. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Rd. to Council Bluffs forms the shortest line between the Union Pacific and Lake Michigan Rds. Milwaukee is noted for the beauty and healthfulness of its situation, and its many fine buildings.

The Scott Banner.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED TO ADVERTISERS.

THE SCOTT BANNER, a weekly newspaper, published at Estillville, is the best paper published in Scott County, Virginia, which county, according to the census of 1880, contains a population of 17,233, being, next to Washington, the largest and wealthiest county in South-west Virginia.

THE BANNER has a circulation of 1,650 in this and adjoining counties in Virginia and Tennessee. There are about sixty mercantile firms in this county alone, besides divers mills and manufacturing establishments, and many mechanics and professional men. Large quantities of goods and wares and raw material are purchased every day. Millions of feet of walnut, pine, poplar, ash and other lumber are being exported down the different streams that drain the county, bringing a large return in money. The crops are very fine. Thousands of dollars' worth of wheat, corn and oats are annually marketed, together with large numbers of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. Money is plentiful and every kind of business prosperous. The South Atlantic & Ohio R. R. passes through this county for a distance of more than forty miles, and is being built at a cost of about one million dollars—a large part of which will be spent here—stimulating business and business enterprises to an unprecedented extent. THE BANNER is read by at least 5,000 persons every week, and by reason of the above advantages will afford to advertisers the most promising field for a return for their investment that can be had.

CHOICE MEDIUM FOR RELIABLE ADVERTISERS.

POINTS FOR ADVERTISERS.

THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN'S circulation largely exceeds that of any other religious paper published in Pittsburgh. It is the leading paper of the United Presbyterian Church, which has a membership of 85,000. The principal part of its circulation is in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. Its readers are among the most thrifty of our citizens. It is essentially a HOME PAPER; is taken to the home and read carefully—not glanced over and then thrown away. The character of the paper and the care taken to exclude improper advertising, commend what appears in its pages to favorable attention. Its rates are low for a paper of its high character and large circulation. Further information as to rates, etc., furnished promptly on application.

A FEW BRIEF REASONS WHY

The Methodist Recorder

IS A VALUABLE ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

CHARACTER AND INFLUENCE.

It is a well-established Religious Journal, of forty-four years' standing, and the Official Organ of the Methodist-Protestant Church, a denomination of 150,000 members.

EXCLUSIVE CIRCULATION.

It is the only Journal published in Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio in the interest of this denomination, and is the only medium through which can be reached a large and influential class of readers. An advertisement appearing in all the other religious papers published in Pittsburgh would not reach five per cent. of its readers.

THE BEST EVIDENCE OF VALUE.

The fact that some of the leading and most successful advertisers of the country have made steady use of its columns for many years, is referred to as the best evidence that can be offered of the value of THE METHODIST RECORDER as an advertising medium.

EXCEPTIONAL GOOD VALUE GIVEN OUR PATRONS.

Advertising rates are low, and character, influence and circulation considered, our patrons receive unusually good value. Estimates upon application. Only first-class advertisements are inserted. WM. McCracken, Jr., Publisher, No. 132 Fifth Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE GREAT LAKE SUPERIOR COUNTRY.

The Carlton County Press.

NORTHERN PACIFIC JUNCTION, - - MINNESOTA.

EDITED BY A. DE LACY WOOD, AND PUBLISHED AT NORTHERN PACIFIC JUNCTION.IS ONE OF THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUMS IN THE NORTH STAR STATE,
AND HAS A LARGE AND INCREASING CIRCULATION.THE PRESS IS A HANDSOMELY PRINTED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER, DEVOTED TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE GREAT LAKE SUPERIOR COUNTRY, CONCEDED
TO BE ONE OF THE RICHEST SECTIONS OF THE STATE.THE PRESS IS THE OFFICIAL AND ONLY PAPER IN THE COUNTY.

The advantages which are thrown together in Carlton County by the generous hand of Nature are so many and so important that it would be next to impossible to balk her of her destiny. Nature has, in this richly and variedly endowed section of our State, given Carlton County unquestionable assurance of a prosperous and brilliant future, and already she has several towns that will soon be recognized as busy and important points in the Republic of commerce and manufactures.

Her inexhaustible water powers are enough to achieve her destiny and make her the centre and hub of the Lake Superior country. To this the interest and motion of this whole section of country must eventually tend, and here have its centre of emanation and thrift. If this may not be confidently asserted of Carlton County and her flourishing towns, then, indeed, there will appear one of the strangest anomalies ever encountered in the peopling, progress and physical development of a country. Through the energy and perseverance of Capt. J. M. Paine, the gallant and fearless pioneer lumberman of Northern Minnesota, the grand water power opposite Knife Falls has been utilized, a magnificent saw mill erected, equipped with new machinery, which is now transforming the mighty pine forests into lumber at a lively rate. The prospects are bright for the immediate improvement of the water powers between Thompson and Fond du Lac, while the Junction is destined to become a railroad centre of considerable importance. But, however, in addition to her water powers, Carlton County has other advantages; she possesses some of the best pine lands in the State, and on her soil are located some of the largest saw mills in the Northwest, while at Thompson exist the finest fields of slate stone to be found in the Union. The quarries are all available and of a quality suitable to a profitable and active commerce. Specimens from these quarries for roofing purposes which have been sent abroad upon order, have elicited the admiration of every one. They have attracted the attention of citizens in distant cities and States. Their fame has equalled that of our water powers, and has already reached opulent communities in Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, and the lower valley of the Mississippi. At some future time we shall attempt to describe, for the benefit of all far and near who may take an interest in a matter so important, the peculiar beauty and available character of the slate stone obtained in our quarries, but for the present the Press will be satisfied by alluding to the important fact that such extensive fields of slate stone, in character and beauty unsurpassed, do exist here, which, together with other great advantages, exclusively and emphatically our own, must, without peradventure, point and shape a brilliant future destiny for Carlton County. At no distant day it may with confidence be asserted that the transportation from this county in this commodity alone will, to a great extent, occupy a large share of the care and time of the four railroads running to Northern Pacific Junction.

Some of the largest saw mills in the State are located at Northern Pacific Junction, practically the eastern terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad, owned and operated by Capt. J. P. Paine & Co. The sawing capacity of these two mills is over one hundred thousand feet per day. Over six miles of railroad track, a 30-ton locomotive, and many flat cars are owned by Paine & Co., and used exclusively for their immense lumbering business here, which represents a capital of over half a million dollars. During the summer 300 men are employed, and in the winter season over 300 hands. Capt. Paine is also the head of the great Water Power Co., of Cloquet, representing a capital of a quarter of a million dollars. Few men in the North Star State have seen more rough service, or evinced more sand in adversity than the gallant old settler, Capt. Paine; but his indomitable pluck and courage in every emergency have already placed him at the front of the great saw mill interests of our flourishing and progressive commonwealth.

It will be seen from the facts stated above that the Press is published in one of the most important and progressive sections of Minnesota, and that its circulation must necessarily be large. The past year a fine 2-story building has been erected by the proprietor of this paper, and many more improvements are contemplated this year. The editor of the Press had the honor of originating and inaugurating the famous Minnesota Editorial excursions to Lake Superior and St. Louis, and served one term as Secretary of the Minnesota Editorial Association. He has concluded to cast his lot at the head of the proud Lake Superior country and the great possibilities in store for her.

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE NEW YORK POST OFFICE FOR THE PUBLICATION OF LIST OF UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

"THE DAILY HOTEL REPORTER" IS KEPT ON FILE IN NEARLY EVERY WHOLESALE HOUSE IN NEW YORK CITY.

Our method for reporting arrivals is unequalled for its simplicity. We place the name of the town from whence the arrival hails, first, in alphabetical order; this is followed by his name; and, last of all, we give the name of the hotel at which he is stopping. By this simple method all arrivals from any one given town are properly classified, and can be traced with the same facility with which a name is found in the Directory. We report, at present, the arrivals at SIXTY-FIVE hotels, which include all worthy of the name. Our arrival lists average about TWO THOUSAND PER DIEM.

FORREST L. BECKNER, PUBLISHER.

215 EAST TWENTY-THIRD ST., - NEW YORK CITY.

SUBSCRIPTION: $2.00 PER YEAR, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

A journal of Current Events, devoted to Masons and Freemasonry. Untrammelled by any clique or faction, and outspoken, without any desire to offend those who differ in opinion. Full of brief, pungent and spicy matter, and commanding an extensive circulation wherever Freemasonry is practiced. During the past fourteen years the CORNER STONE has been increasing in influence and circulation. To Craftsmen it has been "A TRIED STONE, A PRECIOUS CORNER STONE, A SURE FOUNDATION."

"THE CORNER STONE is largely circulated." Is an extract from an affidavit by Bro. Josh Hart, before Judge Cardoza of the Supreme Court, July 12, 1871.

As a special advertising medium, no argument is needed to convince a business man of the utility which THE CORNER STONE possesses, being directly the organ of a Fraternity which is the greater part of the commercial interest of the world; and where, in any section of the habitable globe, is there not a Freemason?

THE ONLY UP-TOWN SUNDAY NEWSPAPER CIRCULATING IN HARLEM, MANHATTANVILLE, CARMANSVILLE, WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, INWOOD, TREMONT, MORRISANIA, FORDHAM, WEST FARMS, HIGHBRIDGE, SPUYTEN DUYVIL, KINGSBRIDGE, WILLIAMSBRIDGE, RIVERDALE, WOODLAWN, AND SOUTHERN WESTCHESTER.

Edited by JOHN FERGUSON MATTHEWS.

Upper New York—that portion of our great city which lies north of the Harlem river—embraces an area ten miles long by three broad, and contains a population (according to the last census) of 41,626, with the capacity to accommodate three millions. Throughout this extensive region and the wide and populous Harlem district, south of the river, THE CITIZEN, during the last four months of the year 1883, has succeeded in creating a phenomenally large and rapidly increasing circulation.

THE CITIZEN is on sale early every Sunday morning at all newsdealers' stores and stands between One Hundredth street and Yonkers city line. Nearly one hundred district agents within the city limits, and many in the adjoining villages of Westchester County, receive supplies direct from the publishers, by special delivery or through the mails every Sunday morning. By means of these agencies and numerous route carriers prompt delivery of single copies at the homes of regular and casual purchasers is effected same morning. These arrangements are being extended weekly.

THE CITIZEN is conducted by a journalist who has had twenty-five years' experience in Ireland, Scotland, England, and America, successively as proof-reader, reporter, business-manager, special correspondent, and editor. It has been allowed to work its own way, hitherto, without fuss or advertisement—solely upon its own merits—until in four months' time it has commanded the respect of contemporaries and the staunch support of Upper New Yorkers and the people of Southern Westchester.

It is the largest and cheapest up-town paper ever produced. It has no local Sunday rival and no weekly equal. It contains reports of municipal proceedings, fullest up-town and Westchester County news, and telegraphic summaries of the foreign and domestic intelligence of the week—all brought down to a point twenty-four hours later than any other local weekly paper. A specimen copy mailed free to any address.

Down-town as well as up-town tradesmen have not been slow to learn the facts that the circulation of THE CITIZEN quickly covers the whole ground, and that by advertising in it their announcements reach the family circle—the goal of all efforts at publicity. Objectionable advertisements will not be inserted at any price. Business cards and other brief announcements can be inserted in one-inch space, for four Sundays, at the low rate of 25 cents per insertion; 13 Sundays for $3.00, 26 Sundays for $5.50, or 52 Sundays for $10.00, payable monthly or quarterly in advance. A voucher paper sent free, weekly, to each advertiser. Longer advertisements and greater space at still lower rates. Terms and estimates promptly furnished to intending advertisers.

Its reading columns are filled with treatises of a scientific and mercantile character and news of real interest to Brewers and Maltsters. It is now in its third year, and has always been and is at present recognized (by those who are able to read both languages) as the leading journal of its class—here and in Europe.

The standing of our paper among the brewing and malting public is well known. It is not an advertising sheet gotten up for the purpose of deceiving advertisers. Every business man knows that the sure road to success is to advertise judiciously. By saying judiciously advertising we do not mean that offered by the cheap and unproductive papers that every line of trade is burdened with, but the kind furnished by papers that have both circulation and standing among those intended to be reached by the advertiser. An advertisement that attracts no attention is dear at any price. But notwithstanding this fact, there are advertisers who patronize papers that never secure an inquiry for their goods. Such papers are virtual blackmailing schemes, in which the advertisers are the victims. You may rely upon it as good business principle that advertising does not pay in any paper that has not a large amount of matter directly interesting to the trade, and therefore is the BRAUER UND MALZER an excellent, and in fact the only advertising medium for manufacturers and inventors who desire to do business among the German Brewers and Maltsters in the United States and Canada.

It is a known fact that all nationalities prefer to read and write their own language, and the Germans make therefrom no exception. Even those who are perfectly familiar with the English language prefer the journal treating upon their trade which is printed in their mother-tongue to any other, if that journal is as good and in many respects superior to the very best printed in a foreign language. This is proven by the large number of actual subscribers which our paper has got, not only in the United States and Canada, but also in Austro-Hungary, Germany, Italy and South America.

A sample copy of the BRAUER UND MALZER is sent to every one on our list who is not a subscriber at regular intervals, and thus an advertisement in our columns for one year will be seen by every one interested in the trade. As our list is a live and constantly revised one, this makes every copy sent out tell for the interest of the advertisers. Our circulation is guaranteed to be between 4,000 and 5,000 copies each month. Send for advertising rates.

REDUCTION IN PRICE!
A NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.
 CHEAPEST AND BEST.

The price of THE NEW YORK TIMES was reduced on the 18th of September from 4 CENTS per copy to 2 CENTS, with a corresponding reduction in the subscription rates. Within three days the circulation of the paper had doubled, and its daily sales are still rapidly increasing. Facts like these give plain and positive proof of the excellence and completeness of THE TIMES as a newspaper. But the step that has brought it within reach of every class of readers involves no cheapening of its quality or lowering of its standard. It is still, and will continue to be, a complete newspaper. It prints more telegraphic matter from all parts of the United States than any other metropolitan journal. Its special cable dispatches promptly supply its readers with all important European news. While it neglects nothing of general interest, it has gained a recognized pre-eminence for the accuracy and fullness of its political reports and of its news concerning railroads, banks and banking, insurance matter, real estate interests, important legal decisions, military and naval affairs, educational progress, and social, religious, and scientific thought and discussion. It gives early announcements of new publications, American and foreign, and it reviews with fairness and critical ability the best books of the day. Its dramatic and musical criticisms are a notable feature of its well-filled pages. It has no hobbies, but it gives its honest opinions upon all leading topics; and amid its graver duties it finds time and the mood now and then to be merry over the foibles of mankind.

THE PROGRESS

is the descendant of one of the oldest papers in the county, and dates as far back as 1861, when the Once a Week, edited and published by Geo. Dean, was started and suspended after a short life. The paper was revived by J. N. Vestal, and called the Citizen, after which Chas. S. McNichols became proprietor, and the name was again changed to the Tribune. In 1880 Geo. V. Mechler purchased it, and the name was this time changed to THE PROGRESS, which name it has since retained, although in May of the present year H. G. Douglass, the present proprietor, became the owner; and THE PROGRESS is now the oldest and best established paper, and has the largest circulation of any in the county. The town in which THE PROGRESS is published is conceded by all to be one of the finest in the State. The Friends yearly meeting is held here every September, and draws thousands of visitors, and the meeting house is the largest in the United States. Sample copies of the paper sent on application.

American Farmer

FORT WAYNE, IND., MARCH, 1883.

MOOIE.

In this issue we present to our readers a handsome illustration of the famous Dutch Friesian bull "Moore," of Dutch Friesian blood, owned by the Lincoln Valley Stock Breeders' Association, of West Edmiston, N. Y. H. Langworthy, Secretary and Agent. The so-called Holstein cattle are identical to a large extent with the Dutch Friesian. The Holstein Breeders' Association is older than the Dutch Friesian, but the latter justify their more select and careful registry. They admit no animals to its registry unless local in the provinces of West Friesland or North Holland, or the descendants of such animals. In these provinces, where these Dutch cattle are found in their greatest purity, no cattle are known of local origin, registered, or even called Holstein. There are two Herd Books in Europe that register these cattle. The oldest, the Netherlands Regulative Stamboek, registers these cattle as Dutch or Dutch Friesian, and the Friesian Herd Book registers them as Friesian cattle. They are not recognized as a distinct and pure breed, which name they seem to assume in transit across the Atlantic. The Dutch Friesian Breeders' Association was incorporated by special act of the legislature of New York during the winter of 1881-2.

The Latest Substitute for Butter.

One of the signs of the times in the advertisements in the New York and Boston papers of "olive butter," which for cooking is said to be better than lard, fully equal to butter, and costs much less than either.

This is nothing more or less than a new article of cotton seed oil. It is really a harmless, cheap and efficient substitute for butter or lard for such purposes as frying doughnuts, etc., and is already largely used for this purpose. Olive butter adds another to the long list of cheap substitutes for butter which are competing more and more sharply with the dairy products. These ingenious and substitutes are having the effect to constantly lower the price of poor dairy butter and lessen the demand for it. The necessity of making and sending to market only the best quality of dairy butter can not be over estimated. It is the only way of competing with the artificial dairy products and of making butter-farming pay.

Don't call upon Providence until you put your own shoulder to the wheel. Then your prayer will be answered.

Advertising Rates.—Extravagantly worded advertisements, or those in which the advertiser offers more than can reasonably be given, are not desired at any price and will be rigidly excluded. Our aim is to protect our readers against fraudulent advertisers and thereby add to the value of legitimate advertising. Our rates will always be as low as our circulation will warrant, but for the present we cannot make rates that will hold good for any length of time. We cordially invite correspondence from advertisers wishing to profit by our circulation, and the rates ruling at the time application is made will be given. We respectfully solicit the business of all legitimate advertisers. Address,

READ WHAT THE PRESS SAY OF THIS MAGAZINE IN EVERY PART OF THE COUNTRY:

"The Magazine of American History, edited by Mrs. Martha J. Lamb, herself one of the most accomplished historians in the country, is growing in interest every month for the general public. The articles are well written, and are upon subjects that fascinate and rivet attention, and the illustrations are true and pertinent, and therefore original."—Memphis Appeal.

"The matter furnished in this periodical is valuable for all time, as presenting historical facts not accessible in books of history. The illustrations and paper are of the finest, and the numbers during a year make two elegant bound volumes."—The Indianapolis Journal.

"It has, within a few months past, developed from a sort of album of quaint and curious notes upon antiquities into a full fledged and most excellent periodical, valuable not merely for its preservation of facts worth keeping in print, but for its readable and interesting articles. The January number contained a paper on the Van Rensselaer Manor, illustrated elegantly with sketches of the great manor house in its palmy days, and every number has several similar articles, the engravings being fully equal to those of the most artistic of our periodicals."—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

"The best publication of the kind. The recent centennial celebration in New York has turned the attention of thousands of persons to the never-fading charms of the early history of America. Mrs. Lamb, while doing ample justice to New York, is true to the whole country. Every State has its own interesting history, and she is glad to collect and print materials reflecting honor on the youngest as well as the oldest member of the Union."—New York Journal of Commerce.

"Not least among its attractions is its system of notes and queries wherein an intelligent interchange of thought continually elicits some valuable information upon matters general and obscure."—New Haven Morning News.

"It is ably edited, is always interesting, furnishing information which even the most learned may accept with gratitude, and is printed with such care and taste as to be a pleasure to handle and look at."—Montreal Gazette.

"One of the most interesting and valuable of American publications."—Toronto Mail.

"It is recognized as one of the best historical publications in this country, and it is to be complimented on its excellence, and congratulated on its success."—Brooklyn Times.

"It should be in every household and library: it is a most entertaining periodical for every intelligent reader, besides being a mine of mental wealth and culture."—Washington Chronicle.

"It is an illustrated monthly which never fails to hold our attention."—New York Independent.

"It has ceased to be an experiment, and become a necessity among the students of the history of early American days. Each number during the year 1883 has been full of papers upon subjects of national and local interest, and not these alone, but papers of import to historical students in other countries."—New England Historical and Genealogical Register, January, 1884.
